The first system (I'm sure you're still with me there) is the Nintendo Switch, a massive improvement over the old system with many more features, it seems to be going toe-to-toe with the Wii U in what is a pretty huge market. The Switch itself does come in two color options, blue and pink. In the past years we've been waiting on the new Nintendo Switch to release due to its size (which they called XL at GDC), price point and new features. The Switch will feature a 1.2GHz processor that should offer the Switch a better gaming experience than the PlayStation 4 Pro gaming board and the Nintendo 3DS in my opinion. This processor is paired with a dual battery and uses a rechargeable wireless charging system. The Switch comes in black, gray or the next color, blue..
